

Scott Eggener

Dr. Eggener is the Bruce and Beth White Family Professor of Surgery and Vice-Chair of Urology at the University of Chicago. He specializes in the care of patients with prostate, testicular, and kidney cancers.

His research has resulted in over 300 publications; he has had editorial roles with multiple journals, including Associate Editor at the Journal of Urology. He has chaired or participated in multiple ASCO/AUA/NCCN cancer guideline panels and is a long-time executive board member of International Volunteers in Urology.