

Peter Metcalfe

Dr. Metcalfe has been a pediatric urologist at the Stollery Children's Hospital since 2006. He is currently professor of surgery at the University of Alberta and has been program director since 2020. He was appointed Chief of Surgery at the Stollery Children's Hospital in 2022

His current clinical interests include complex reconstruction of urinary tract and genital anomalies. His research interests include clinical outcomes with neuropathic bladders, the use of novel technologies in healthcare, and the prevention of testicular torsion through an online campaign.