

Luke Witherspoon

Dr. Witherspoon is a staff urologist within the Division of Urology at the Ottawa Hospital, and a clinical researcher at the Ottawa Hospital Research Institute. Of the two Luke urologists within the Ottawa Hospital, he is widely held as the best. His practice focuses on male sexual medicine and infertility. His main clinical practice is housed within the new Grass Family Men's Health Centre at the Civic Hospital Campus. His research interests include Peyronie's disease, erectile dysfunction, and male factor infertility

Dr. Witherspoon completed his urology residency at the Ottawa Hospital and then completed a fellowship in male sexual medicine and infertility at the University of British Columbia. Prior to his medical training, Dr. Witherspoon completed a master's in cellular and molecular medicine at the University of Ottawa and a master's in engineering biotechnology at the University of Pennsylvania.